David,

Brandi just confirmed that the dive team will not be able to return next week, but that they may finish up on Saturday if needed. This afternoon we will see how the inspection is progressing & then coordinate on completion either Saturday or in several weeks.

OK – I got a little different feedback from Holly this morning – she is in the field with the dive team. She indicated the dive team will not return next week, even if the cap inspection is not complete. Benchmark (the boat support team) is not available next week, as they have a tissue collection effort commitment at the Lavaca Bay Superfund Site.

I can look around for another option, but can you clarify if the dive team will be there next week, and if so, what days?

Thanks,
David

David,

Yes, plan to finish inspection on Wed then do samplers Thursday – Friday. The dive team only covered about ¼ acre on Monday, but it was going much faster at end of day.
Will have a much better idea today on whether the inspection will be finished on Wed. If not, planning to pull off inspection to do the samplers Thurs & Friday, then finish rest of inspection next week.

Gary – Just confirming that we are ready for you guys to come out for the subject inspection on Monday 4/4. Can you, or one of the dive team members, give us a heads up of when you would like to start? I'm assuming everyone would meet at the boat ramp where we met before. Is that correct?

Our current schedule is for the Dive Team to finish the cap inspection on Monday – Wednesday next week, and then install the cap pore water samplers on Thursday and Friday. Does that fit with you and your team's expectations?

Please let us know.

Thanks,
David
